

DEITIES & DEMIGODS CODEX

Complete Compendium of Mythworld

195+ Entities across 17 Pantheons

Based on AD&D 1st Edition Deities & Demigods (1980)

Including Dragonlance (Krynn) Expansion

28 Shards of Power | 9 Prophecies | 28 Injuries | 35 Items

In-Game Reference Guide

Table of Contents

Chapter 1: Introduction	3
Chapter 2: The Pantheons	3
Chapter 3: Greater Gods	4
Chapter 4: Lesser Gods	6
Chapter 5: Demigods	7
Chapter 6: Heroes	7
Chapter 7: Monsters	8
Chapter 8: The Krynn Pantheon	8
Chapter 9: The 28 Shards of Power	9
Chapter 10: The 9 Prophecies	11
Chapter 11: Injury System	12
Chapter 12: Items & Equipment	13

Chapter 1: Introduction

Welcome to the Deities & Demigods Codex, the definitive in-game reference for the Mythworld role-playing experience. This comprehensive compendium catalogs every entity, artifact, prophecy, injury, and item within the game universe, providing players and Dungeon Masters alike with a single, authoritative source of knowledge drawn from the rich traditions of AD&D 1st Edition Deities & Demigods (1980) and the beloved Dragonlance saga of Krynn.

Within these pages lie the profiles of 195+ entities drawn from 17 distinct pantheons, spanning the breadth of human mythological imagination. From the thunderous halls of the Norse Aesir to the cosmic horrors of the Cthulhu mythos, from the celestial courts of the Chinese Celestial Bureaucracy to the enchanted forests of Celtic legend, this Codex encompasses the full spectrum of divine and mortal power that shapes the world of Mythworld.

The Codex is organized into twelve chapters. Chapters 2 through 6 detail the pantheons and their inhabitants, categorized by power level: Greater Gods, Lesser Gods, Demigods, and Heroes. Each entity listing includes essential game statistics such as hit points, armor class, magic resistance, alignment, and domains of influence. Chapter 7 catalogs the terrifying monsters and super-beings that serve as adversaries, while Chapter 8 provides an in-depth overview of the Krynn pantheon from the Dragonlance setting.

Beyond mere stat blocks, the Codex also details the mystical 28 Shards of Power - fragments of divine essence that players may discover and wield throughout their adventures. These shards are tied to specific pantheons and carry unique powers and risks. The 9 Prophecies weave narrative threads that connect player characters to the cosmic events unfolding across Mythworld, each with multi-act progression from subtle hints to world-shaking resolutions.

The Injury System (Chapter 11) provides 28 distinct injuries across five categories - Physical, Magical, Poison, Psionic, and Cursed - adding depth and consequence to combat encounters. Finally, Chapter 12 catalogs 35 items and pieces of equipment ranging from common consumables to legendary artifacts, complete with rarity classifications and gold piece values.

Whether you are a veteran Dungeon Master planning an epic campaign or a player seeking to understand the vast tapestry of mythological forces at play, the Deities & Demigods Codex is your essential companion. Use the Table of Contents and the detailed tables within each chapter to quickly locate the information you need. May your adventures be legendary, and may the gods favor your path.

Chapter 2: The Pantheons

The world of Mythworld is governed by 17 pantheons, each representing a distinct mythological tradition. These pantheons range from the well-known Classical and Norse traditions to the esoteric Melnibonean and Cthulhu mythos, and from the structured Chinese Celestial Bureaucracy to the spirit-based American Indian traditions. Together, they form a divine ecosystem where gods compete for worship, territory, and influence over mortal affairs.

The total entity count across all pantheons exceeds 195 beings, including Greater Gods, Lesser Gods, Demigods, Heroes, and Super Monsters. Each pantheon has its own internal hierarchy, alliances, and rivalries that shape the political landscape of the divine realm. The table below summarizes each pantheon with its entity count and a brief description of its mythological focus.

Pantheon	Entities	Description
Greek	9	Olympian gods of mythology, rulers of sky, sea, and underworld
Norse	7	Aesir and Vanir, warriors of Asgard and keepers of fate
Egyptian	6	Gods of the Nile, keepers of ma'at and cosmic balance
Indian	4	Trimurti and Devas, cosmic forces of creation and destruction
Celtic	3	Tuatha De Danann, nature gods of the ancient Celtic world
Central American	3	Aztec and Mayan deities of sun, rain, and sacrifice
Finnish	2	Gods of the Kalevala, spirits of sky, sea, and forest
Japanese	2	Kami of Shinto, celestial beings of sun and creation
Babylonian	1	Marduk and the Mesopotamian pantheon of justice and magic
Nehwon	2	Gods of Fritz Leiber's Lankhmar, fate and death
Nonhuman	3	Patron gods of dwarves, elves, and other non-human races
Melnibonean	1	Chaos Lords of the Eternal Champion saga
Cthulhu	2	Great Old Ones and Outer Gods of cosmic horror
Krynn (Dragonlance)	12	Gods of Dragonlance, the war between good and evil
Arthurian	8	Knights and sorcerers of Camelot's golden age
Chinese	6	Celestial Bureaucracy, gods of heaven and earth
American Indian	5	Spirits and totems of the First Nations

Chapter 3: Greater Gods

Greater Gods are the most powerful beings in the Mythworld cosmology. They command near-absolute authority within their domains, possess hit points ranging from 300 to 450, and exhibit magic resistance from 25% to 100%. These entities are not mere opponents; they are cosmic forces that shape reality itself. A total of 43 Greater Gods span the pantheons, with the Greek and Norse traditions boasting the largest representation. The table below provides a complete statistical overview of all Greater God antagonists, organized by pantheon.

Name	Title	Pantheon	Align	HP	AC	MR %	Domain	Symbol
Zeus	King of the Gods	Greek	CN	400	-5	95	Sky, Thunder, Law	Thunderbolt
Hera	Queen of the Gods	Greek	N	300	2	50	Marriage, Women	Peacock
Athena	Goddess of Wisdom	Greek	LG	329	-2	80	Wisdom, War, Crafts	Owl
Ares	God of War	Greek	CE	333	-2	59	War, Bloodshed	Spear
Apollo	God of Light	Greek	NG	390	-2	70	Light, Music, Prophecy	Lyre

Name	Title	Pantheon	Align	HP	AC	MR %	Domain	Symbol
Poseidon	God of the Sea	Greek	CN	390	3	75	Sea, Earthquakes	Trident
Hades	Lord of the Dead	Greek	LE	400	-4	80	Death, Underworld	Bident
Hermes	Messenger of the Gods	Greek	N	340	2	35	Travel, Trade, Thieves	Caduceus
Aphrodite	Goddess of Love	Greek	NG	350	0	60	Love, Beauty	Dove
Odin	All-Father	Norse	NG	400	-6	85	Wisdom, War, Poetry	Raven
Thor	God of Thunder	Norse	CG	399	4	80	Thunder, Strength	Mjolnir
Loki	Trickster God	Norse	CE	300	-4	75	Mischief, Fire	Flame
Hel	Goddess of Death	Norse	NE	350	-5	95	Death, Underworld	Skull
Freya	Goddess of Love and War	Norse	NG	339	-3	80	Love, Fertility, War	Cat
Tyr	God of Justice	Norse	LG	380	-5	25	Law, Justice, War	Sword
Balder	God of Light	Norse	NG	388	-4	75	Light, Beauty, Purity	Sun Wheel
Ra	Sun God	Egyptian	LG	400	-2	95	Sun, Creation	Sun Disk
Osiris	Lord of the Underworld	Egyptian	LG	400	-4	80	Death, Resurrection	Crook & Flail
Isis	Goddess of Magic	Egyptian	LG	350	-2	75	Magic, Motherhood	Throne
Set	God of Chaos	Egyptian	LE	378	-4	59	Chaos, Desert, Storm	Set Animal
Thoth	God of Knowledge	Egyptian	N	389	-4	98	Knowledge, Writing	Ibis
Ptah	God of Crafts	Egyptian	LN	390	-4	70	Crafts, Creation	Ankh
Indian (4 gods)
Shiva	The Destroyer	Indian	N	450	-10	90	Destruction, Dance	Trident
Vishnu	The Preserver	Indian	LG	389	-5	85	Preservation, Order	Discus
Indra	King of the Devas	Indian	CN	400	-12	80	Storm, War	Vajra
Rudra	God of Storms	Indian	LN	344	-2	25	Storm, Hunt	Arrow
The Dagda	Father of the Gods	Celtic	N	400	-4	80	Druidry, Fertility	Club
Lugh	Master of All Skills	Celtic	N	375	0	90	Skills, Light, War	Spear
Silvanus	Forest God	Celtic	N	333	-4	30	Nature, Forests	Oak Leaf
Central American (3 gods)
Quetzalcoatl	Feathered Serpent	Central American	NG	400	-8	90	Wind, Learning	Feathered Serpent
Tezcatlipoca	Smoking Mirror	Central American	CE	400	-6	85	Night, Sorcery, War	Obsidian Mirror

Name	Title	Pantheon	Align	HP	AC	MR %	Domain	Symbol
Tlaloc	God of Rain	Central American	N	400	-4	65	Rain, Fertility	Goggle Eyes
Ukko	Sky God	Finnish	LG	400	-2	85	Sky, Thunder	Thunderbolt
Ahto	God of the Sea	Finnish	NG	324	2	100	Sea, Waters	Fish
Japanese (2 gods)
Amaterasu	Sun Goddess	Japanese	LG	400	-2	85	Sun, Imperial Line	Mirror
Izanagi	Creator God	Japanese	LG	375	-3	70	Creation, Life	Spear
Marduk	King of the Gods	Babylonian	LN	350	1	50	Justice, Magic	Spade
Kos	The Unknowable	Nehwon	N	377	-4	35	Fate, Mystery	Hooded Figure
Death	Lord of Death	Nehwon	N	350	-5	95	Death, Endings	Scythe
Nonhuman (3 gods)
Moradin	Soul Forger	Nonhuman	LG	400	-7	80	Dwarves, Crafting	Hammer
Corellon Larethian	Creator of Elves	Nonhuman	CG	400	-5	90	Elves, Arts, Magic	Moonbow
Gruumsh	One-Eye	Nonhuman	LE	350	-3	75	Orcs, War, Slaughter	Spear
Melnibonean (1 gods)
Arioch	Knight of Swords	Melnibonean	CE	350	-3	70	Chaos, Swords	Black Sword
Cthulhu (2 gods)
Cthulhu	Great Old One	Cthulhu	CE	400	-6	85	Madness, Depths	Tentacle
Nyarlathept	Crawling Chaos	Cthulhu	CE	350	-4	85	Deception, Knowledge	Shadow

Chapter 4: Lesser Gods

Lesser Gods occupy the middle tier of the divine hierarchy in Mythworld. While not possessing the overwhelming power of Greater Gods, they are nonetheless formidable beings with significant influence over specific aspects of mortal life and the natural world. Lesser Gods typically have hit points in the range of 200-350, moderate to high magic resistance, and command narrower domains than their Greater counterparts.

This category includes well-known deities such as Artemis (Greek Goddess of the Hunt), Bragi (Norse God of Poetry), Bast (Egyptian Cat Goddess), Dionysus (Greek God of Wine), Hephaestus (Greek God of the Forge), Huitzilopochtli (Aztec God of War), and Morrigan (Celtic War Goddess). Nonhuman pantheon Lesser Gods include Lolth (Spider Queen of the Drow), Mielikki (Elven Goddess of Forests), and Sekolah (Shark God of the Sahuagin). The Cthulhu mythos contributes Shub-Niggurath (The Black Goat of the Woods) and Nyarlathotep in his Lesser aspect.

Lesser Gods serve as patrons for specific character classes, alignment choices, and cultural backgrounds. They are often the most accessible deities for player characters to interact with, as their narrower domains make them more relatable and their power level more appropriate for mid-to-high level campaigns. Clerics and paladins may choose a Lesser God as their patron, gaining domain-specific spells and abilities in exchange for role-playing obligations and quest requirements.

Chapter 5: Demigods

Demigods represent the lowest rung of the divine ladder, though they are still far more powerful than any mortal. These beings typically have one divine parent and one mortal parent, granting them a fraction of celestial power while maintaining a connection to the mortal world. Their hit points generally range from 150 to 300, with magic resistance varying widely based on their divine heritage.

Notable Demigods in the Mythworld include Heracles (Greek, son of Zeus), Anubis (Egyptian God of Embalming), Kali (Indian Goddess of Destruction), Karttikeya (Indian God of War), Susanowo (Japanese Storm God), Hachiman (Japanese God of War), and Loviatar (Finnish Goddess of Pain and Disease). From the Cthulhu mythos, Ithaqua (the Wind-Walker) and Hastur (the Unspeakable One) appear in demigod form.

Demigods are often the primary antagonists or quest-givers in mid-level campaigns. They are powerful enough to pose a serious challenge to an adventuring party, yet not so overwhelmingly strong as to be unbeatable. Their dual nature makes them compelling narrative figures - they often struggle with their identity, torn between their divine heritage and mortal limitations. Player characters who discover demigod ancestry may unlock unique abilities tied to their divine bloodline.

Chapter 6: Heroes

Heroes are the mortal champions of Mythworld - legendary figures whose deeds have earned them a place in the divine record despite lacking godhood. These are the warriors, wizards, and rogues whose stories are told across the ages, from the labors of Heracles to the quests of the Knights of the Round Table, from the wanderings of Odysseus to the defiant stand of Sturm Brightblade at the High Clerest Tower.

The Hero roster spans all pantheons. Greek heroes include Heracles, Perseus, Theseus, Jason, Odysseus, and Bellerophon. Norse legend contributes Fafhrd and the Gray Mouser (from the Nehwon tales). The Arthurian tradition brings King Arthur, Lancelot, Galahad, Gawaine, Percival, Tristram, Morgan le Fay, and Merlin. From the Dragonlance saga, Heroes include Tanis Half-Elven, Raistlin Majere, Caramon Majere, Sturm Brightblade, Goldmoon, Riverwind, Tasslehoff Burrfoot, Flint Fireforge, Tika Waylan, Laurana, and Gilthanas.

Heroes typically have hit points in the range of 50-200 and possess class-based abilities rather than divine powers. They serve as allies, rivals, mentors, or tragic figures in the narrative. Many Hero characters have specific story arcs tied to the Prophecies (Chapter 10), making them integral to the overarching campaign. Players may encounter Heroes as NPCs, or may themselves become Heroes through their actions and the acquisition of Shards of Power.

Chapter 7: Monsters

The Monsters chapter catalogs the most powerful and dangerous creatures in Mythworld. These are not ordinary beasts but legendary beings of extraordinary power - the Great Wolf Fenris who will devour Odin at Ragnarok, the World Serpent Jormungandr that encircles all of Midgard, the great blue dragon Cyan Bloodbane who devastated the elven nation of Silvanesti, and the supreme dragon overlord Malystryx whose power rivals that of the gods themselves.

In addition to the 9 Super Monsters listed below, the Codex recognizes 16+ standard monsters drawn from the Cthulhu mythos and other pantheons, including Shoggoths, Deep Ones, Nightgaunts, Byakhee, Spawn of Cthulhu, Gugs, Ghosts, Mi-Go, Dark Young, Shadow Wights, Draconians, Thunder Birds, Blodug Hofi, Cerberus, Apep, and the Primordial One. These creatures range from 100 to 450 hit points and present unique challenges beyond mere physical combat.

Name	Type	Pantheon	Align	HP	AC	MR %	Special
Fenris	Great Wolf	Norse	CE	350	-4	80	Devourer of Odin
Jormungandr	World Serpent	Norse	CE	400	-3	75	Midgard encircler
Cerberus	Hound of Hades	Greek	NE	200	-1	40	Guardian of Underworld
Apep	Serpent of Chaos	Egyptian	CE	300	-2	60	Enemy of Ra
Spawn of Cthulhu	Star-Spawn	Cthulhu	CE	200	-1	45	Servant of the Deep
Cyan Bloodbane	Blue Dragon	Krynn	LE	280	-5	55	Slayer of Silvanesti
Lord Soth	Death Knight	Krynn	LE	300	-8	85	Knight of the Black Rose
Malystryx	Red Dragon Overlord	Krynn	CE	450	-6	60	Supreme dragon lord
Khellendros	Blue Dragon Overlord	Krynn	LE	400	-5	55	Lord of Skulls

Chapter 8: The Krynn Pantheon

The Krynn pantheon, drawn from the beloved Dragonlance saga created by Margaret Weis and Tracy Hickman, represents one of the most richly detailed mythological systems in all of fantasy literature. Set on the world of Krynn, this pantheon is defined by an eternal struggle between the forces of Good, Evil, and Neutrality, each represented by a trio of gods associated with the three moons of Krynn: Solinari (silver, good), Lunitari (red, neutral), and Nuitari (black, evil).

Greater Gods of Krynn

The Greater Gods of Krynn include Paladine (the Platinum Dragon, god of good and the patron of the Solamnic Knights), Takhisis (the Dark Queen, goddess of evil and dragonlord of all evil dragons), and Gilean (the Grey Gem, god of neutrality and keeper of the Tobril). Supporting these triad heads are Mishakal (goddess of healing), Habbakuk (god of animal life and the sea), Kiri-Jolith (god of war and justice), Sargonnas (god of vengeance and destruction), Chemosh (god of the undead), Zeboim (goddess of storms and the sea), Solinari, Lunitari, Nuitari, Branchala (god of music), Sirrion (god of fire and natural power), Reorx (god of crafting), and Shinare (goddess of wealth and commerce).

Heroes of Krynn

The Heroes of the Lance form the backbone of the Dragonlance narrative. Tanis Half-Elven, the reluctant leader torn between his human and elven heritage. Raistlin Majere, the ambitious and physically frail archmage whose hunger for power leads him down a dark path. Caramon Majere, Raistlin's warrior twin whose strength is matched only by his loyalty. Sturm Brightblade, the tragic knight whose honor and sacrifice define the spirit of the Solamnic Knighthood. Goldmoon, the Plainswoman who carries the Blue Crystal Staff and becomes the first true cleric of Mishakal in ages. Riverwind, her devoted companion. Tasslehoff Burrfoot, the irrepressible kender whose boundless curiosity and apparent cowardice hide a core of genuine heroism. Flint Fireforge, the gruff dwarven metalsmith whose tough exterior conceals a heart of gold. Tika Waylan, the innkeeper's daughter who becomes a warrior. Laurana, the elven princess who transforms from naive maiden to brilliant general. And Gilthanas, elven warrior and scholar.

Krynn Monsters

Krynn is home to some of the most fearsome creatures in all of Mythworld. The dragon overlords - Malystrixx (the Red), Khellendros (the Blue), and Beryllintranox (the Green) - are ancient dragons of power rivaling the gods. Cyan Bloodbane, the great blue dragon who manipulated the Silvanesti elves for centuries. Lord Soth, the Death Knight of Dargaard Keep, whose tragic fall from grace created one of the most iconic villains in fantasy. The Draconians, dragon-men created from the eggs of good dragons, serve as the shock troops of the Dragonarmies. And the Shadow Wights, terrifying undead that drain not life but hope from their victims.

Chapter 9: The 28 Shards of Power

The Shards of Power are fragments of divine essence scattered across the multiverse during the great cosmic fracture that shaped Mythworld. Each shard is tied to a specific pantheon and carries unique powers that can alter the fate of gods and mortals alike. There are 30 Shards of Power in total (often referenced as 28 in common parlance, with two additional Krynn shards discovered in later chronicles), each one a potential campaign-defining artifact.

Shards are categorized by their pantheon of origin: Primordial (3 shards from before time itself), Norse (1), Greek (2), Egyptian (2), Cthulhu (2), Melnibonean (2), Nehwon (2), Celtic (2), Indian (1), Chinese (1), Japanese (1), Central American (1), Babylonian (1), and Krynn (9, reflecting the expanded Dragonlance content). Each shard favors certain gods when wielded, creating complex alliance dynamics.

#	Name	Pantheon	Power / Effect	Origin
1	The Pale Shard	Primordial	Favors any god; neutral alignment amplifier	The first fracture of creation itself
2	The First Crack	Primordial	Favors chaotic gods; disrupts order and stability	Born when law and chaos first split
3	The Splinter of Before	Primordial	Favors elder gods; contains pre-time memories	A fragment from before existence began
4	The Yggdrasil Wound	Norse	Favors Norse pantheon; channels world-tree power	Formed when Yggdrasil was wounded

#	Name	Pantheon	Power / Effect	Origin
5	The Eye of Cronos	Greek	Favors Greek Titans and Olympians; divine sight	Plucked from the Titan lord himself
6	The Gorgon's Tear	Greek	Favors chthonic gods; petrification resistance	Wept by Medusa at the moment of death
7	The Feather of Ma'at	Egyptian	Favors Egyptian pantheon; bonus to lawful gods	Dropped by Ma'at during the weighing
8	The First Sunrise	Egyptian	Favors Ra and solar deities; solar empowerment	Solidified light from Ra's first dawn
9	The Dreamer's Fragment	Cthulhu	Favors Great Old Ones; high risk of summoning	Shard of the sleeping god's dream
10	The Nameless Mist	Cthulhu	Favors Outer Gods; planar traversal hazard	Condensed form of nameless void
11	The Black Rune Shard	Melnibonean	Favors Chaos Lords; destabilizes reality	A rune of pure chaos made solid
12	The Last Dragon's Heart	Melnibonean	Favors Law; crystallized draconic essence	Heart-stone of the final dragon
13	The Rat King's Crown	Nehwon	Favors neutral gods and tricksters; luck manipulation	Crown fragment of Lankhmar's rat god
14	The Skah Jordan Fragment	Nehwon	Favors thief gods and luck deities; fortune twisting	Broken piece of the luck stone
15	The Cauldron's Chip	Celtic	Favors Celtic Tuatha De Danann; regeneration	Chipped from the Dagda's cauldron
16	The Stone of Destiny's Splinter	Celtic	Favors lawful Celtic gods; sovereignty magic	From the Lia Fail itself
17	The Tenth Avatar's Tear	Indian	Favors Indian pantheon; Trimurti blessing	Wept by Vishnu awaiting his tenth form
18	The Jade Emperor's Reflection	Chinese	Favors Chinese Celestial Bureaucracy; mandate power	Mirror shard of heaven's emperor
19	Amaterasu's Hidden Spark	Japanese	Favors Japanese kami; solar deities; hidden light	Spark hidden in the celestial cave
20	Quetzalcoatl's Shed Scale	Central American	Favors Aztec/Mayan pantheon; good-aligned gods	A scale from the Feathered Serpent
21	Marduk's Tablet Shard	Babylonian	Favors Babylonian pantheon; lawful gods; divine law	Fragment of the Tablets of Destiny
22	The Graygem Fragment	Krynn	Favors Krynn pantheon; chaotic outcomes; wild magic	Shard of the Graygem of Gargath
23	The Blue Crystal Splinter	Krynn	Favors Mishakal; healing; good-aligned gods	Crystal of Mishakal's healing light
24	The Dragonlance Shard	Krynn	Favors Paladine; Huma's legacy; dragon-slaying	Forged in the Dragonlance itself
25	The Blood of the Conclave	Krynn	Favors Solinari/Lunitari/Nuitari equally; demands balance	Blood oath of the three moons
26	Takhisis's Broken Crown	Krynn	Favors Takhisis; evil dragons; shadow magic	Fragment of the Dark Queen's crown
27	The Knighthood's Honor	Krynn	Favors Paladine; Kiri-Jolith; Solamnic Knights	Crystallized oath of the Solamnic
28	The Kender's Curiosity	Krynn	Favors Branchala; kender luck; chaos	Impossible object from a kender's pouch
29	The Tower of Wayreth's Key	Krynn	Favors the Conclave; planar travel; unlocking secrets	Key fragment from the Tower of High Sorcery
30	Fistandantilus's Last Memory	Krynn	Favors dark magic; undead; forbidden knowledge	Final memory of the great archmage

Chapter 10: The 9 Prophecies

The Prophecies of Mythworld are cosmic pronouncements that bind player characters to the unfolding narrative of the game. Each prophecy is tied to a specific theme and follows a three-act structure: a subtle hint in Act 1, a growing manifestation in Act 2, and a climactic resolution in Act 3. These prophecies are not merely flavor text - they actively shape the campaign, creating character arcs that intertwine with the larger conflict between the pantheons.

#	Name	Theme	Riddle (excerpt)	Act 1 Hint	Act 2 Manifestation	Act 3 Resolution
1	The Bearer's Burden	Sacrifice	What is given freely yet costs more than gold? What binds the soul yet sets it free? The weight you carry is not the shard, but the knowing of its price.	The bearer begins to sense a growing exhaustion that sleep cannot cure.	Physical toll becomes visible; allies notice the bearer aging or weakening.	The bearer must choose: sacrifice the shard's power or sacrifice part of themselves permanently.
2	The Bloodline Awakens	Heritage	Your father's eyes look out from ancient stone. Your mother's voice echoes in halls you've never known. The blood remembers what the mind forgot.	Strange recognition when encountering certain deities or locations.	Divine parent reveals themselves through visions and dreams.	The PC must accept or reject their divine heritage, reshaping their destiny.
3	The Betrayer's Path	Treachery and Redemption	Once you stood where shadows stand. Once you served the iron hand. The mirror shows a face you knew - will you walk that road anew?	The PC discovers they once served the campaign's antagonist.	Old allies of the antagonist recognize the PC; memories begin to surface.	The PC must choose: return to the villain's side or forge a new path.
4	The Deathless One	Reincarnation	Eleven times the candle burns, eleven times the page still turns. Each death a lesson, each birth a loss. What remains when all else is forgotten?	The PC experiences flashes of dying in different eras and forms.	After each death, the PC resurrects but loses memories of their past life.	In the final death, all memories return at once, granting immense power.
5	The Oracle's Choice	Free Will vs Fate	All roads lead to the same mountain. All rivers meet the same dark sea. But the traveler who sees the destination may yet choose not to walk.	Prophecies begin to come true around the PC, suggesting inevitability.	The PC learns their predicted fate and that all paths lead there.	The PC discovers that the act of defiance itself is the fulfillment.
6	The Nameless One	Identity	Before the shard, there was no before. Before the name, there was no one. You are the question wearing the mask of an answer.	The PC has no memory of anything before finding the shard.	Others seem to recognize the PC, calling them by different names.	The PC discovers they were created by the shard itself, not born.
7	The Last Defender	Protection	You will hold the line when all others fall. You will stand between the darkness and the light. But the shield that saves all others cannot save its bearer.	The PC develops an uncanny ability to protect allies in combat.	Each protection comes at a personal cost that accumulates.	The PC succeeds in saving everyone but cannot save themselves - unless allies intervene.

#	Name	Theme	Riddle (excerpt)	Act 1 Hint	Act 2 Manifestation	Act 3 Resolution
8	The Unwritten	Defiance	The blank page cannot be read. The empty road cannot be mapped. Those who seek your fate find only silence where your story should be.	Oracles and divination spells fail when targeting the PC.	Enemies cannot predict the PC's actions; the PC becomes unpredictable.	The PC's freedom from fate allows them to break a cosmic rule others cannot.
9	The Chosen One	Misdirection	You are not the one. You are the road they walk. You are not the answer - you are the question that makes the answer possible.	The PC is told they are the prophesied hero, but nothing feels right.	The real chosen one emerges - someone the PC has been guiding.	The PC realizes their role was to prepare the true chosen one all along.

Chapter 11: Injury System

The Injury System adds depth and consequence to combat encounters in Mythworld. Rather than simply losing hit points, characters may suffer specific injuries that impose lasting effects until properly treated. There are 28 injuries divided across five categories: Physical (8 injuries), Magical (6), Poison (6), Psionic (6), and Cursed (2). Each injury has a specific effect and a corresponding cure, ranging from simple medicine checks to powerful restoration magic.

Physical injuries result from conventional combat - blades, blunt force, and crushing impacts. Magical injuries stem from exposure to arcane energy, planar forces, or eldritch corruption. Poison injuries are inflicted by venomous creatures, toxic substances, and alchemical agents. Psionic injuries affect the mind and are caused by psychic attacks, mind flayers, or planar entity contact. Cursed injuries are the most dangerous, as they often require divine intervention or specific quests to cure.

Name	Type	Effect	Cure
Deep Cut	Physical	Bleeding; -2 to attacks until treated	Healing potion or DC 12 Medicine
Bruised Ribs	Physical	-1 to all physical checks; pain on exertion	1 week rest or Cure Light Wounds
Concussion	Physical	Disorientation; -2 to Perception and Initiative	DC 14 Medicine or magical healing
Crushed Hand	Physical	Cannot use one hand; -4 to attacks with that hand	Regeneration or DC 16 Heal check
Broken Limb	Physical	Movement halved or arm disabled; -3 to related checks	Magical healing or 4 weeks rest + splint
Internal Bleeding	Physical	1d6 damage per hour; death in 24 hours untreated	Greater Healing or DC 18 Surgery
Lacerated Eye	Physical	-4 to ranged attacks; half blind; -2 Perception	Regeneration spell only
Severed Tendon	Physical	Movement reduced to crawl or arm unusable	Regeneration or Heal spell
Magical (6)
Arcane Burn	Magical	Spellcasting disrupted; -2 to spell attack rolls	Dispel Magic or 1 day rest
Soul Fracture	Magical	Cannot be healed by normal means; -1 max HP per level	Restoration spell or Wish
Planar Taint	Magical	Random magical surges; unstable magic	Dispel Magic + Remove Curse
Mana Drain	Magical	No spellcasting for 1d4 hours; fatigue	Potion of Arcane Restoration

Name	Type	Effect	Cure
Eldritch Corrosion	Magical	Magic items have 50% failure chance; permanent until cured	Limited Wish or specific ritual
Spellscar	Magical	Glow faintly; attracts hostile magic; +2 to one school	Cannot be removed; becomes a feature
Weak Poison	Poison	-1 to all rolls for 1 hour	DC 12 Con save or antitoxin
Necrotic Venom	Poison	2d6 necrotic damage; prevents healing	Greater Restoration or specific antidote
Paralytic Toxin	Poison	Paralysis for 2d4 rounds	DC 14 Con save each round
Blood Toxin	Poison	Strength drain; -1d4 Strength per hour	Neutralize Poison + Heal
Mind Poison	Poison	Hallucinations; -2 to Wis saves	Greater Restoration
Acid Burn	Poison	2d6 acid damage; equipment degradation	Heal spell + equipment repair
Psionic (6)
Mental Fatigue	Psionic	Cannot concentrate; -2 to Int and Wis checks	8 hours rest or psychic healing
Psychic Trauma	Psionic	Random panic attacks; flashbacks to traumatic event	Greater Restoration or long therapy
Mind Bleed	Psionic	Telepathic leakage; others hear surface thoughts	Psychic surgery or Mind Blank
Ego Fracture	Psionic	Personality shifts; may act against alignment	Restoration + atonement
Thought Burn	Psionic	Psionic abilities weakened; takes 2x effort	Psionic healing or 1 week rest
Psionic Shock	Psionic	Unconscious 1d6 hours; all abilities suppressed	Heal + Restoration
Cursed Wound	Cursed	Will not close; bleeds continuously; no natural healing	Remove Curse + Heal
Divine Mark	Cursed	Branded by a deity; affected by their domain; visible	Atonement + quest for the deity

Chapter 12: Items & Equipment

The Items & Equipment chapter catalogs 35 items available in the Mythworld game, ranging from common consumables to legendary artifacts of divine power. Items are classified by type (Weapon, Armor, Wondrous, etc.) and rarity, with gold piece values reflecting their power and scarcity.

Rarity Distribution: Artifact (4), Legendary (6), Very Rare (13), Rare (8), Uncommon (4), Common (0). Higher rarity items are typically found as quest rewards, in the hoards of powerful monsters, or within the ruins of ancient civilizations.

#	Name	Type	Rarity	Effect	Value (gp)
1	Dragonlance	Weapon	Legendary	+3 vs dragons; double damage to evil dragons	25,000
2	Sword of Kiri-Jolith	Weapon	Legendary	+3 holy avenger; smites evil on crit	22,000
3	Hammer of Kitiara	Weapon	Very Rare	+2 battleaxe; extra attack vs good creatures	18,000
4	Staff of Magius	Magic Focus	Legendary	+4 spell attacks; absorbs 1 spell per round	20,000

#	Name	Type	Rarity	Effect	Value (gp)
5	Crown of Horn	Headgear	Artifact	Dominates dragons; +6 Charisma vs dragons	50,000
6	Shield of Paladine	Shield	Very Rare	+3 AC; reflects magic missiles	15,000
7	Wand of Silvanesti	Wand	Rare	Casts Entangle and Speak with Plants 3/day	8,000
8	Ring of High Sorcery	Ring	Very Rare	+2 spell save DC; stores 3 spell levels	12,000
9	Boots of Elvenkind	Footwear	Rare	Silent movement; +10 to Stealth	5,000
10	Cloak of the Graymouser	Cloak	Legendary	Invisibility at will; +4 to all DEX checks	16,000
11	Gauntlets of Ogresmash	Gloves	Very Rare	Strength set to 21; +4 unarmed damage	14,000
12	Girdle of Giant Strength	Belt	Legendary	Strength set to 25; resize to Large	18,000
13	Helm of Telepathy	Headgear	Rare	Read thoughts 60 ft; cast Detect Thoughts at will	6,000
14	Bracers of Archery	Wristwear	Uncommon	+2 to bow attacks; double arrow damage on crit	3,000
15	Robes of the Archmagi	Armor	Artifact	AC 15; +2 spell save; resistance to all magic	45,000
16	Amulet of Proof against Detection	Amulet	Very Rare	Immune to divination; cannot be scried	13,000
17	Brooch of Shielding	Accessory	Rare	Absorbs 50 points of magic missile damage	4,000
18	Medallion of Faith	Amulet	Uncommon	+2 to saves vs charm and fear	2,000
19	Potion of Greater Healing	Consumable	Uncommon	Restores 4d4+4 hit points	500
20	Elixir of Dragon Breath	Consumable	Rare	Grants dragon breath weapon (3d6) for 1 hour	1,500
21	Scroll of Protection from Evil	Scroll	Uncommon	10-ft radius; evil creatures cannot enter	300
22	Stone of Good Luck	Wondrous	Rare	+1 to all saves and checks	5,000
23	Iron Stone (Scarlet)	Wondrous	Very Rare	+2 to Constitution; regenerates 1 HP/round	12,000
24	Bag of Holding (Type IV)	Container	Rare	Holds 1,500 lbs; 2,500 cu ft interior	2,000
25	Horn of Valhalla (Silver)	Wondrous	Very Rare	Summons 2d4+2 berserkers	14,000
26	Figurine of Wondrous Power	Wondrous	Rare	Becomes a creature for up to 1 hour/day	7,000
27	Tome of Clear Thought	Book	Very Rare	+2 Intelligence; can be used once by non-wizards	16,000
28	Deck of Many Things	Deck	Artifact	Draw cards for random powerful effects	30,000
29	Orb of Dragonkind	Wondrous	Artifact	Controls dragons of one type; summons 1d4 dragons	55,000
30	Crystal Ball	Wondrous	Very Rare	Cast Scrying at will; 120 ft range	11,000
31	Mirror of Mental Prowess	Wondrous	Legendary	Cast Clairvoyance, Legend Lore, and Commune	20,000
32	Bowl of Commanding Water Elementals	Wondrous	Very Rare	Summons 1d4 water elementals	12,000
33	Brazier of Commanding Fire Elementals	Wondrous	Very Rare	Summons 1d4 fire elementals	12,000
34	Censer of Controlling Air Elementals	Wondrous	Very Rare	Summons 1d4 air elementals	12,000
35	Stone of Controlling Earth Elementals	Wondrous	Very Rare	Summons 1d4 earth elementals	12,000

End of the Deities & Demigods Codex. May your adventures be legendary.